The table displays the distribution of average course load by college/division for all undergraduate students pursuing majors in a particular discipline. The data are displayed as the percent of the students' total course load in each of the colleges/divisions over the two year time period of 2014-16.

* Includes courses offered by the professional schools and special programs.